

Hey everyone!

My name is Spencer Nick also known as TachyonXero and I am hosting a new podcast called "Tech Aggravations". Each week I will read some of your worst tech horror stories, complaints and aggravations to the world. Hopefully together we can find some answers to your problems or at least let these companies know that something went wrong with one of their products. All the while helping others from getting burned by a bad piece of tech or a useless service. However for this to work I need your help. I need you to sit down at your computer and send me your biggest complaints, concerns and problems. With your help and a little luck I think we can make this world a better place.

Send your messages to techaggravations@gmail.com or stop by our site at techaggravations.com

Tech Aggravations starts December 10th!
